Hampstead Garden Suburb

OAKWOOD ROAD, BROOKLAND AND THE HOLMS – AREA 6

Date of observations: June 2012

This report has three elements.

1. A brief overview account of the trees in the area.
2. An area map showing;
 - the location of TPO trees,
 - trees shown on Unwin's 1913 map and,
 - other trees which make a significant contribution to the local streetscape.
3. A spreadsheet providing full details of the observations.

Area 6 Overview

Date of Observations July 2013 – October 2013

Introduction

Area 6 lies in the northwest of the Suburb. Fallosen Way divides it on an east-west axis roughly following the valley of Mutton Brook. The brook itself flows through Northway Gardens, a Barnet public park, which contains many fine trees, including alder and willow trees by the brook and a handsome black poplar. Area 6 is unusual in that it has four sub-areas with distinctly different characters.

To the south of Fallosen Way, Denman Drive, Oakwood Road and Addison Way were developed between 1912 and 1918 in the style of the Artisans' Quarter. Most of the small cottages back on to Little Wood, Big Wood or Northway Gardens, and this part of the Suburb is noted for its lush green character. The mature oaks in the woods rise above the cottage roofs giving a picturesque effect, which is enhanced by some notable trees in gardens: willow, silver birch and, of course, mature oaks. There are 32 oaks in gardens in this area. However, there are trees in front gardens which contribute little. In Denman Drive some tall conifers hide the architecture and dwarf the cottages; in Oakwood Road overgrown shrubs and trees in poor condition have a similar effect.

Fallosen Way is the section of the A1 where the four-lane highway becomes a two-lane road lined with very small cottages. The non-stop traffic results in a noisy, polluted environment. In this hostile setting, any tree of significant size makes a positive contribution to the streetscape. Here therefore, the criteria for a 'significant contribution' are somewhat relaxed, particularly in relation to shape and year-round attractiveness. The spreadsheet documents the particular contributions of each tree. One surprising feature of Fallosen Way is the number of fruit trees that flourish in both front and back gardens. We have noted the largest of these trees, which complement the original scale of the cottages and are an attractive feature in spring and autumn. At 163 Fallosen Way there is a small Mirabelle tree, which due to its modest size does not make a significant contribution to the road, but provides a delightful surprise for pedestrians.

In the Holms to the north of Fallosen Way, the planting of native and non-native ornamental trees in front gardens complements the intimate scale of the cottages. There are one or two fine mature trees which are described in the notes, but the interest lies in the mixture of low but mature species that provide a variety of colour, shape and texture throughout the year. Eastholm and Westholm have small islands of trees where no single tree is of note but where the group adds significantly to the tranquil character of these streets, a world away from the Fallosen Way traffic.

Brookland Rise and Brookland Hill occupy a south-facing slope to the north of Fallosen Way and the views to the south give the area an open and spacious feel. The entrance from Fallosen Way is framed by mature trees on both sides of the road which effectively shield the residential area from the A1. A line of trees, listed as a TPO group, marks the western boundary and two groups of trees behind Brookland Garth provide views from both Brookland Rise and Brookland Hill. Otherwise there are few mature trees that make a significant contribution to the streetscape.

In Area 6, as elsewhere in the Suburb, there is some overcrowding from self-seeded trees. This reduces the impact that mature trees can make in the landscape. Some species are so rapid in their growth that they are unsuitable for front gardens, masking the architecture, blocking light and potentially, if too near the house, causing damage.

Species in Area 6

Oak (39) is the most numerous species followed by ash and birch. In Westholm and Oakwood Road there are a number of old hawthorn trees and in Eastholm, a Judas tree and a Himalayan tree cotoneaster. Otherwise, the trees are from a range of species which are commonly found in Southeast England: cherry, poplar, apple, horse-chestnut and beech. Purple plum and magnolia are also found in front gardens.

TPO Trees in Area 6

There are 29 TPO listings shown on Barnet's map of this section of the conservation area: 2 of the listings as groups with an unspecified number of trees. In Brookland Rise we estimate that the G8 group includes 10-12 trees; in Midholm Close there appear to be 3 trees covered by G2. This gives a total of roughly 42 trees in this area that are protected by TPOs. All except three listings are in the Addison Way, Oakwood Road, Denman Drive section of Area 6.

Of the 29 listings, 5 are missing: 3 in Oakwood Road and 2 in Denman Drive. See spreadsheet for details.

There are 5 TPO queries: in two cases, the tree observed is of a different species; in another case the tree on the TPO site is clearly a replacement sapling probably growing from the stump of the original tree. See spreadsheet for details.

Unwin Trees

19 oaks were marked on Unwin's 1913 map, of which 6 survive. One of these is protected by a TPO. Individual Unwin trees of exceptional quality include the major oak by the footpath into Big Wood at 66 Oakwood Road, and the oak in front of 59 Oakwood Road which grows in the boundary hedge and is on the Barnet Street Tree list.

Groups of significant trees in Area 6

There are five groups of trees of especial note in this area. Firstly, the mature oaks in the rear and front gardens of 66-86 Addison Way. These oaks, set in front of the canopy of trees in Little Wood), form an impressive entrance to the Suburb.

Secondly, Denman Drive is one of the most wooded and picturesque roads in the Suburb. The land falls towards the NE and is bordered to the north by Little Wood and to the south by Big Wood and the street appears to be enclosed by trees. Most of these are indeed in the woods, but in Denman Drive North, there is a sequence of attractive trees including a copper beech, a magnificent willow, a horse-chestnut and two silver birches, which add greatly to the ambiance. The same is true at the northern entrance to Denman Drive South, which is marked by a purple leaved plum, a maple and a birch tree.

Thirdly, there are the major oaks in the accurately named Oakwood Road. Almost half of all the oaks in Area 6 are found in this road (16/39). They are strung along the length of the road, both in front and rear gardens; particularly notable examples are: the oak to the rear of 23 and 25, the two oaks between 20 and 22, and oaks at 86 and 98.

Fourthly, there is a line of ash trees on the rear boundaries of the cottages in Falloden Way, which back on to Northway gardens. These are a prominent feature of the public gardens, providing some privacy to the rear elevations of these cottages.

Fifthly, the TPO group G8, which sits just beyond the boundaries of the gardens on the western side of Brookland Rise, is worth noting because it provides a green boundary to the Suburb itself at this point; the trees also provide 'borrowed views' from Brookland Rise.

Individual trees of note in Area 6

Three oaks are quite exceptional in their height, shape and condition. The oak T13 to the rear of 53 Denman Drive provides a focal point at the T junction at the southern entry to Denman Drive; the oak in the rear garden of 71 Denman Drive is one of the finest oaks in the Suburb, but it is less visible from the street as it is partially hidden behind 69 Denman Drive; and the oak in the rear garden of 9 Eastholm dominates the land between Midholm and Eastholm, providing fine views between houses in both streets. Finally, in the front garden of 89 Oakwood Road, there is an umbrella-shaped tree with intricately twisted and interwoven branches forming a 'capital' beneath the umbrella-shaped canopy; this could be a wych elm variant Pendula horizontalis or Camperdown where branches writhe from a high graft. If so, these cultivars are now quite rare.

Tree Preservation Order Recommendations

6 trees in Area 6 are recommended for consideration for Tree Preservation Orders (see Spreadsheet Notes for details).

6		1	MIDHT01	Midholm	8 front garden	Apple or crab? CHECK	old tree
6		1	MIDHT02	Midholm	12 boundary with 14	cherry	old shapely with fine thick branches
6		1	MIDHT03	Midholm	14 boundary with 16	magnolia	fine spreading
6		1	MIDHT04	Midholm	20 boundary with 22	cherry	very old, upright thick branches
6		1	MIDHT05	Midholm	48 front hedge	ash*	very old, upright thick braches, has clearly been pollarded in distant past to form a very shapely and pleasing rounded tree
6		1	MIDHT06	Midholm	47 front corner with Hilltop	cherry	well shaped, has spread and echoes street tree in Hilltop also a cherry
6		1	MIDHT07	Midholm	37 centre front hedge	crab apple	very old, spreading crown, articulates the narrowing of the street at this point (the houses are closer to the street).
6		2	MIDHT08g	Midholm	21 back garden	Apple etc.	Group of trees filling rear gap between 19 and 21
6		1	MIDHT09	Midholm	13 front garden/corner of 15	Japanese maple
6		1	MIDHT10	Midholm	11 front garden near house	silver birch	weeping silver birch, shades gardens of 9 and 11 like an umbrella. Very attractive
6		1	MIDCT01	Midholm Close	19/20 front hedge	holly	shapely and mature tree, hides the architecture to some extent
6		1	MIDCT02	Midholm Close	11/12 front garden	field maple	mature well shaped
6		5	MIDCT03g	Midholm Close	1/2 front garden	sycamore, ash	group of trees including 2 mature sycamores (one covered by ivy on trunk and lower branches) and 3 young ash trees. This group frames the entrance to the Close in an attractive way although each tree is of modest quality
6		2	MIDCT04g	Midholm Close	group of trees in area NE of 16	Oak, grey poplar, lime	Fine, large well shaped trees particularly the major oak. Not possible to see exact location but the trees appear to extend behind 14 and 15.
6		1	OAKWT01	Oakwood Road	Between 1C and 1	Ash	very large tree, good shape, -above roof height; the crown fills the space between the houses very attractively. The tree is located to the side of 1 Oakwood Rd. on the boundary and slightly to the rear of the house
6		1	OAKWT02	Oakwood Road	Between 7 and 9	Horse chestnut	Well shaped chestnut, probably actually in garden of No.9
6		1	OAKWT03	Oakwood Road	Rear garden of 11, to side, close boundary with 13	Silver Birch	well shaped, graceful tree; filling gap between houses, complements the architecture
6		1	OAKWT04	Oakwood Road	Rear between 23 + 25	Oak	huge, majestic oak visible over garage, probably in garden of 25 but almost on the boundary. TPO RECOMMENDATION

6		1		OAKWT05		Oakwood Road	Front of 59	Oak	Very large and beautiful - pruned at lower levels; located in the hedge and is on the Barnet Street Tree database
6			1	OAKWT06		Oakwood Road	front of 61by bdy. with 63	magnolia grandiflora	large, well shaped evergreen tree on site of Unwin tree. Obscures house.
6			1	OAKWT07		Oakwood Road	Front of 89	Wych elm ?	'umbrella' shape - with very intricately twisted and interwoven branches forming a 'capital beneath the umbrella shaped canopy. It looks trained rather than natural but could be the result of pruning.
6			2	OAKWT09g		Oakwood Road	Front of 99	Hawthorn, maple	Tall hawthorn, intermingled with a maple. 2 good trees but overgrown and masked by sapling and shrub growth
6			1	OAKWT10		Oakwood Road	Front of 101	?prunus	CHECK SPECIES A fine spreading cherry?, good shape
6			1	OAKWT11		Oakwood Road	Front of 6	walnut	in hedge, roof height and shape but not in good condition
6			2	OAKWT12g		Oakwood Road	Between 20 +22	Sycamore & ash	These trees are part of a group of trees, mostly oak (see below)which make a major impact on the streetscape. On the NW corner of the group, a sycamore dominates an ash with both soaring high with some branches overhanging the pavement. The land is attached to 22. Group TPO in place nearby.
6			1	OAKWT13		Oakwood Road	Between 20 +22	Oak	One of two major oaks of great height, spreading crowns and in fine condition. Each of these trees is worthy of a TPO RECOMMENDATION
6			1	OAKWT14		Oakwood Road	Between 20 +22	Oak	One of two major oaks of great height, spreading crowns and in fine condition. Each of these trees is worthy of a TPO RECOMMENDATION . Difficult to gauge exact location. Also, there is a third oak behind these tow oaks which is most probably DENDT06 in the garden of 71 Denman Drive South
6			1	OAKWT15		Oakwood Road	NW corner of front 28	Oak	rooftop height tree, framing corner of road
6			1	OAKWT16		Oakwood Road	Front of 46	Oak	Tall oak; heavily pruned
6			2	OAKWT17g		Oakwood Road	Front of 52	Red Plum? Hawthorn	A relatively young red plum on the site of an Unwin tree. Also at front on W side of gate, an old hawthorn; together these add to the country lane prettiness of the street
6			1	OAKWT18		Oakwood Road	Front of 60	Oak	Very good oak - large - nice shape - good condition
6		1		OAKWT19		Oakwood Road	Front of 66	Oak	Very large + good shape - heavily pruned over path to Bigwood
6			1	OAKWT20		Oakwood Road	Front of 70	Silver Birch	a silver birch in the location of an Unwin trees, modest in size but good shape, branches overhang the pavement, adding shade and movement to the streetscape.
6			1	OAKWT21		Oakwood Road	Front of 86	Oak	Fine old oak in good condition, in hedge but not on street tree list TPO RECOMMENDATION
6			1	OAKWT22		Oakwood Road	Rear of 88	Oak	Crown visible over garage - good shape (wide crown) - good condition
6			3	OAKWT23g		Oakwood Road	Front of 94 and 96	Silver Birch, crab apple, hawthorn	These trees grow very close to the hedge, overcrowded but an attractive group in character with the cottage architecture and general ambiance of the road.
6			1	OAKWT24		Oakwood Road	Front of 98, on boundary with 83 Northway gardens	oak	major oak, very tall, good shape, marks the beginning of the road TPO RECOMMENDATION
